The University of Michigan

REAL ESTATE PROGRAM

For more than three decades, The University of Michigan Real Estate Program has been serving the needs of real estate practitioners in the state. Since the program's inception in 1947, more than 75,000 enrollments have been recorded in the evening courses and intensive week-long Institutes. Programming also includes an annual clinic and is designed to meet various professional needs and requirements set by the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation and other accrediting organizations.

In June of each year, the prestigious U-M Certificate in Real Estate is presented to those participants in the program who have successfully completed eight courses. More than 3,300 professionals have so far been awarded the Certificate.

Those receiving the Certificate are granted automatic membership in the Real Estate Alumni of Michigan (RAM), an organization dedicated to a more professional real estate business, advancement of continuing real estate education, and the encouragement of college graduates to enter the real estate profession.
